

Endpoint Defense Management

360°

Full-Spectrum Managed Detection and Response (MDR) for CrowdStrike Falcon®

Cyber defenders today face a multitude of challenges, including sophisticated cyber adversaries, a broad assortment of complex tools, and a shortage of expertise and staffing. These obstacles often mean that even the most competent security teams are stuck in a cycle of reaction rather than driving a proactive security program.

To succeed against modern adversaries, organizations must break out of this cycle and transition from reactive to predictive defense.
